

Panel 2: “Trial in the Sunshine, Discovery in the Dark”

Professor Steven Gensler

I. Overview

- a. This presentation will look at the ways that modern discovery developments are challenging the ability of lawyers to control their own search and production decisions, including the case law that suggests a duty to cooperate with the other side to develop an agreed process and the idea that search and production processes are protected as work-product.